

Karen Wallace

Karen worked for the Provincial Government of British Columbia for 23 years and held positions in the policy branch of Child and Family Services, including Director of Child Welfare Policy. After retiring in 2014, she has become an avid pickleball player, playing regularly in her hometown of Regina in the summertime and winters in Florida. Karen and her husband Reg have traveled to a number of small rural communities in Saskatchewan to introduce the game of pickleball. In their first year they brought pickleball to over one hundred people in rural Saskatchewan and this number continues to grow as they visit more communities.
